

YOUSCHEDULER

THE OFFICIAL YOUSCHEDULER
NEWSLETTER

Prepare. Plan. Create.

Welcome YouScheduler friends and supporters,

We appreciate you for connecting with YouScheduler. YouScheduler provides a service for students to achieve their full potential and institutions driven insight to build the best experience possible for their students and faculty. It is a startup company founded and run by two students at the University of New Hampshire aiming to unlock the world of college course analytics. With an efficient software, YouScheduler's suite allows students to prepare, plan and create their desired course schedule. YouScheduler is able to help students increase their success and provide institutions data-based insight to enhance learning in higher education.

The YouScheduler team in combination with our supportive mentors and advisers, aim to enhance higher education. Special thanks to the University of New Hampshire Entrepreneur Center for providing YouScheduler the resources to expand as a company and continue to grow in becoming a leader contributor in software as a service to enhance higher education across the nation.

Read on to learn more about what the team has been up to in recent months!

Thank you,

The YouScheduler Team

Expansion

YouScheduler LLC made some difficult decision this October. Now that operations in Durham at the University of New Hampshire are running efficiently, our company is now pooling resources and marketing efforts to universities in Boston. As our next step of expansion beyond the University of New Hampshire, the YouScheduler team decided to expand our college course scheduling application into Massachusetts and specifically Boston. Boston is a city comprised of 35 colleges ranging from public and private institutions to ivy leagues. Expanding from a small rural town on the coast of New Hampshire to the hub of Boston will be an adjustment for our company but will be the start of our company growth and our team could not be more excited.

This past month, software developers also expanded our web application by making it more versatile and adaptable to the user with the addition of dark mode. They incorporated the newest innovation into the YouScheduler design allowing for user personalization when using our application. Dark mode is available across mobile and desktop at all stages of our website and college course application!

